SLIP

Slip additives decrease the coefficient of friction (increase the slipperiness) of the surface of a bag, film or tubing. Standard formulations have enough slip additive to keep bags, film or tubing from sticking together but not so much as to make them difficult to handle.

Low Slip

Some users require low slip bags, film or tubing to decrease the likelihood of their product sliding when packaged. Mattress bags are a good example. Low slip bags are formulated with no slip additive.
